THE ARMY ON A PEACE FOOTING. - The .U. S. army has finally been reduced to a peace footing, in-accordance with the act of Congress of July 15, 1876. Under this arrangement our regular army will soon consist of one general one lieutenant general, four major generals and three brigadier generals, with the usual complement of staff officers in the field. Besides, there will be the adjutant, quartermaster, commissary and surgeon generals, with their respective subordinates, the corps of engineers, the ordnance department, the signal corps, ten regiments of cayalry, five regiments of artillery, regiments of cayalty, five regiments of artillery, wenty-five regiments of infantry, the military academy, and a body of Indian scouts. The rink will consist of 30,000 enlisted men. The In Isaa scouts will foot up 1:000; company laundresses; 1,700; employees of the quartermaster's department, 2,500. The total number of enlisted men and attaches for whom rations will have to be issued are 35,234. It is expectively that it will be necessary to re-enlist 6,000 during the year to keep the army up to this standard, and as the pay will be reduced to the old ante-rebellion rates, this will be no easy task.
